Letter from the President... Kinda.

This letter usually comes from Jason Labowitz, the president of Entertainment Earth. But I had something important to say this time. I'm Matthew, I'm 6 years old, and Jason is my uncle. My dad Aaron is the CEO of the company... which is just like the president. My dad and uncle share a big office and my dad brings home great toys for me sometimes (but not everyday).

I love the toys my dad and uncle sell at Entertainment Earth, and I really like to go to Comic-Con each July to help out in the booth at the show. It's lots of fun, and I get to see tons of neat things and funny people. You should go there, too!

Check out all the cool stuff in this catalog and on the Entertainment Earth website, entertainmentearth.com. Make sure to click on these logos at the top of the website to keep up with the latest and greatest news!

Follow us all summer!

Uncle Jason also says to tell you that we're giving you $15 OFF your order of $99 or more. (See back cover for details.) If you need any help, be sure to contact Client Services. Call or e-mail them... and tell them Matthew sent you!

Note from Uncle Jason: Matthew loves the toys that we selectively show him and let him play with. Our catalog is not suited for him, however, and we don't market to children. Entertainment Earth, Inc. markets and sells products, including children's products, for purchase by adults 18 years and over.

Matthew, Jason Labowitz, President, and the Entertainment Earth Team

We'll be at Comic-Con International 2010 in San Diego, July 22–25. Stop by booth #2343 and ask about our Exclusive Show Specials! See pages 20-21 for a preview.
